

THE TRIAL FILES

23/01/2025 TAMWORTH

Rail True on a Good surface here at Tamworth.

Race 5 - 3:35PM SUPER MAIDEN PLATE (1200 METRES)

Not a huge amount of speed engaged which is a little surprising over this distance but indicative of the class of race, despite the $50,000 prize pool. STARSARISE likely to be close to the speed from a good barrier. BROKEN WINGS led two back over 1005m but was fresh. MOONTIME might be asked to roll forward from a wide barrier.

#4 BRILLIANT KNIGHT is the sole debutant and he looks the horse to beat. He got back in his Newcastle trial over 900m but worked through along the inside and found plenty, winning that nicely. Bullock has had a ride on him in a trial back in June last year and the pair draw a nice barrier, hopefully settling closer at this trip than he did in his recent trial. This looks a suitable assignment for the son of Dundee and tipping he can make his presence felt.

The market has #9 ANARITA and #8 STARSARISE as the dangers and we can't argue with that. ANARITA was fantastic in a stronger race last start, finding the line well from last. Rock hard fit but barrier does her no favours and she has had her chances before now. STARSARISE also found the line well last time and looks suited second up. Fitter for that and drawn well. In the mix.

SELECTION:

#4 BRILLIANT KNIGHT (WIN)

Web: www.thetrialfiles.com.au

@the_trialfiles

@thetrialfiles

Disclaimer: The Trial Files is published for information purposes only. All care is taken in compiling information, however The Trial Files is not liable for errors.
Gamble Responsibly: 1800 858 858

