13/03/2024 KENSINGTON

Race 1 - 1:45PM BIVOUAC FIRST YEARLINGS HANDICAP (1000 METRES)

Rail in the True position for this good midweek Kensington meeting. No shock to see them winning from on speed, especially early in the program.

We kick things off with a good 2YO race over 1000m. Expecting HEZDARNHOTTOO to lead, holding off ROSELYN'S STAR who can settle outside lead for Nash Rawiller.

Would have preferred #1 ROSELYN'S STAR to lead and control the race but he looks incredibly hard to beat in this event. He set a very fast speed on debut, beating all bar Gatsby's who is a very smart horse with a huge margin back to third and fourth. They went 6.4 lengths faster than class to the 600m there and this colt still stuck on fantastically well, in a high rating performance. He trialed superbly prior to that event and convinced it's the right form leading in. He has the fitness edge and race experience on his side compared to his rivals and looks the horse to beat. 1100m back to 1000m on a firm track are the slight queries.

#3 HEZDARNHOTTOO comes here off two impressive trials himself. He gets Berry staying with him off the recent Hawkesbury trial win and he does look the leader. He looks the horse that #1 ROSELYN'S STAR needs to beat. #4 PERSPIRATION was good in his Warwick Farm trial, working through along the inside in restricted room over the 802m journey. He will likely camp behind the leaders from barrier 1 and have last shot.

SELECTION:
