

THE TRIAL FILES

9/2/2024 MOONEE VALLEY

Race 1 – 5:45PM DYNAMIC PRINT GROUP MAIDEN (1000M)

Rail out 6m the entire circuit. Rail in this position on good track on a Friday at the Valley you want to be leading or on speed.

The leader looks to be MY NAME IS from barrier 3. Sat 2nd on debut and led at its most recent start. The debut form behind Amigo reads well but thought he had every chance when running 2nd at Sale last time and think he looks too short at the current quote. Positives are that he should find the front and gets the conditions to significantly help his chances here. MOAKSUN is a half brother to Asfoora making his debut tonight. Don't think he possesses the ability she does but the recent trial win at Camperdown was good enough to be a player here. He draws 2 and can put himself in the right spot in running to be a chance here.

Loved the most recent jump out of OLIVE BAGUETTE. That was his first hit out with the blinkers on and he certainly impressed. Jumped cleanly to lead comfortably and showed a neat turn of foot at the 200 to put his rivals away to win by a space. He looks a good style of horse and think there is a bit under the bonnet with him. He should be able to put himself on speed based on the way he has left the machines in his jump outs, and we have him on top here. Zahra takes the ride also which is a good push given he doesn't often ride for the stable.

SELECTION:

#7 OLIVE BAGUETTE (win).

Race 7 – 8:45PM THE ORBIT LOGISTICS VALLEY SUMMER SPRINT SERIES BM70 (1200M)

Fair bit of pace in this. I AM CAVIAR will want to hold the front from barrier 1 with KUSINI drawn 2 likely to want the lead as well. BILL THE BOXER likes to roll forward and drawn the outside gate probably tries to fire across and find a position near the speed. EXTRATWO bombed the start last time so a little unknown where she lands, but if she jumps cleanly, she should want to hold a spot also from barrier 5.

In an open race we want to have something on EYE OF THE EAGLE. He is a horse with a bit of talent, and although some of his best form has come over a little further than this, his jump outs suggest he has come back in great order for his first up assignment here. His first jump out was over 900m at Mornington where he was allowed to find his feet before closing strongly late. His second jump out really caught the eye over 1100m on 17/1. He rounded up the leaders turning for home and when asked for an effort straightening extended very nicely and won the heat easily. Like that he has had the 1100m hit out and has been given 3 weeks since that so he should be nice and fresh for this event tonight. Draws perfectly in 4 to just tag what looks a good speed and we think there is good value in him at his current price of $13/$3.50.

The favourite is EXTRATWO but inclined to risk her given she bombed the start first up and was sent back to the trials and was again slowly away. You would have to trust that she will jump cleanly here and off the recent evidence we aren't prepared to do so, especially at $3. SCULLY comes into this off a good first up win and BILL THE BOXER is the class in the race. Open race.

#3 EYE OF THE EAGLE (1 win x 3 place).

9/2/2024 HOBART

Race 7 – 1:50PM RACING AND SPORTS MAIDEN (1300M)

Pace here from IT'S KIND OF MAGIC, EXTREME GEM and GIVE GIGGLES. YELLOW SAM likely midfield from barrier 10 with MEGAMEA.

Really keen on the chances of GIVE GIGGLES here. She is a very progressive mare and comes into this off the back of a very good trial win at Geelong on 30/1. Loved the way she moved there and she's clearly going very well. She had one run in early December and was a dominant winner on that occasion, so she did have a fitness edge on her rivals in her recent trial, but she is a mare that is on the way up and finds a very winnable Group 3 here. She should roll across from barrier 11 here and put herself right on the speed and she looks a great winning chance.

We want to have something on MEGAMEA here also. Loved her run last time in the Black Pearl at Geelong. She got a long way back from the wide gate on that occasion but found the line strongly to run 3rd. She came from behind Eternal Flame on that occasion and ran past her, and we have since seen that horse come out and win in dominant fashion in town. Since that run she had a trial at Cranbourne on 30/1 and she impressed us there. Went to the front and was a strong winner, spacing her rivals late. She did have the fitness edge on the field, but the horse than ran 2nd there, Estriella, is a very talented horse who is $4 in a group race tomorrow at Caulfield, so there was merit to how well MEGAMEA trialed on that occasion.

YELLOW SAM is the favourite and comes into this off the back of two good runs this time in. She was held up on straightening first up but ran through the line nicely, before being a dominant winner at Geelong over 1400m 2nd up on 6/1. Her best runs have been over 1400m, and we have a slight query about the drop back in distance to 1200m here but she does come in to this off a month between runs so will be fresh enough. Likely to have to get back in the field here and happy to risk her at the price against our other two selections.
